MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence

SUBJECT : OPR Special Memoranda

Ed: 25X1A

1. [REDACTED], an analyst in our Soviet affairs staff, has been engaged in a study of the Soviet Fourth Generation ICBM from the point of view of which leaders and institutions became involved and how. It is a part of our larger program on Soviet decision making. In the course of his work, he has come across a couple of matters which inspired him to produce two brief memoranda which are attached. As you will note from the footnotes on the front page of each, both memoranda have been discussed with other offices in CIA.

2. I think they are sufficiently interesting to merit your attention and, if you approve, distribution to a small circle of individuals within the Agency. The names of the individuals who are proposed as recipients are included at the end of each of the memoranda.

25X1A [REDACTED]
